

NEGOTIATION & Conflict Management SKILLS

Description:

As constructors work with clients, subcontractors, and consultants on projects, conflicts arise and relationships may get strained. Participants will improve their skills in communication and negotiation on construction projects. Participants will learn skills to enhance their ability to de-escalate conflict, listen effectively, build mutual respect with others in a construction context, and negotiate effectively.

Audience:

The course is designed for construction owners, project managers, estimators, supervisors and those involved in construction disputes.

Course fee includes:

All books and materials, lunch, certificate upon completion and parking.

The course is offered as:

One day (7-8 hours) of lessons with instructor.

At the end of the course participants will be able to:

- Provide more effective customer service
- Understand the basic elements of communication and demonstrate effective communication skills with clients/constructors.
- Understand motivation theory and apply motivational techniques to win trust and engage individuals/teams you work with.
- Identify different personality styles and how to communicate appropriately and negotiate effectively with each one.
- Understand the basics of negotiating, de-escalating conflict and setting the ground work for effective negotiation.
- Ask effective questions and listen to others in order to get to the issues behind various negotiation intentions.
- Getting to a “yes” and closing a negotiation well.
- Building long term relationships of trust amongst all construction stakeholders.

The instructor:

Tim Williams, MBA, GSC

Go to bgcpartners.ca/about.php to view instructor bio.

www.bgcpartners.ca